Release No. 15-146

August 27, 2015

U.S. Army Garrison Fort Leonard Wood comes together for teambuilding, camaraderie event

FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo. – The U.S. Army Garrison Fort Leonard Wood is slated to hold its organizational day beginning at 9 a.m., Sept. 3 at the Main Post Chapel and Coyler Park here.

Organizational day is a time of teambuilding and camaraderie between Garrison Command's directorates and organizations, and it is also a way for the command to show appreciation for the hard work and dedication of the workforce.

Col. Andy Herbst, USAG commander, will open the organizational day with remarks at the Main Post Chapel, followed by fun, food and some hearty competition at Coyler Park.

Garrison staff members will have the opportunity to take part in activities like kick ball, volleyball, tug-of-war, a scavenger hunt and a wacky relay.

As a part of this organizational day, several Garrison offices will be closed or have reduced staffing.

About U.S. Army Garrison Fort Leonard Wood

U.S. Army Garrison Fort Leonard Wood has more than 3,000 Soldiers, government civilians and contract personnel in its diverse work force. These dedicated people support the training mission of the installation, mobilize and deploy active and reserve component units and personnel, and operate and maintain the installation facilities and programs that ensure an excellent quality of life for assigned service personnel, civilians and their families.

Garrison Command ensures all service members and their families have the facilities and services they need to be innovative and productive in their assignment and to fully enjoy their new home in the Heart of the Ozarks.

About Fort Leonard Wood

Fort Leonard Wood is a thriving and prosperous installation that has evolved from a small basic training post 70 years ago to a premier Army Center of Excellence that trains about 80,000 military and civilians each year.

Home to the Maneuver Support Center of Excellence, Fort Leonard Wood now trains and educates service members and develops doctrine and capabilities for the Training and Doctrine Command's U.S. Army Chemical, Biological, Radiological, and Nuclear School, U.S. Army Engineer School, and U.S. Army Military Police School, three gender integrated Initial Military Training brigades, and the Army's largest Noncommissioned Officers Academy.

Over the past several years, Fort Leonard Wood has received numerous additional responsibilities to include supporting a colonel-commanded Marine Corps Detachment and an Air Force Detachment, which are both the largest on any Army installation, are located on Fort Leonard Wood; a large Navy Seabee Detachment and elements of the Coast Guard train here as well.
